As passenger volume has grown to record numbers over the past several years, McCarran officials have constantly evaluated the airport's infrastructure and operations seeking ways to enhance customer service, maximize efficiencies and increase flexibility. Wednesday, the airport celebrates the completion of infrastructure improvements in Terminal 1 -- part of a $30 million renovation project that brought new flooring and updated bathrooms to Baggage Claim and Ticketing, as well as brighter lighting, contemporary wall coverings and new check-in counters.

There will be a brief speaking program before a ceremonial ribbon cutting, followed by light refreshments. Guests will also be invited to take a look back in time with a slideshow highlighting how the airport has evolved over the years, along with comments from the Director of Aviation regarding plans for continued enhancement of the passenger experience as we look forward to the 70th Anniversary of McCarran being owned and operated by Clark County.

In addition to the facilities and operational improvements made around the airport, McCarran recognizes that superior customer service for its passengers is a top priority. With a focus on improving the passenger experience, leaders from the Department of Aviation, airlines, tenants and service providers have come together to launch an airportwide customer service program called MAYS: McCarran At Your Service.
