

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO: WHICH TRAM FROM THE D GATES?

Las Vegas is arguably the most exciting city on the planet and — we get it — you can't wait to start your vacation. But don't make the common mistake of getting distracted or following the crowd when you deplane at McCarran's D gates. The airport has two terminals, both of which are reached by trams leaving from the D Concourse. If you need to claim checked bags, the terminal with your baggage claim depends on which airline you are flying.

If you arrived on a flight with Delta or American, go down the escalator and look for the signs directing you to the TERMINAL 1 TRAM STATION. Board the first available tram in the station to go to Terminal 1.

If you flew Air Canada, Frontier, Hawaiian, Sun Country or United, go down the escalator and look for the signs pointing to the TERMINAL 3 TRAM STATION. Board the first available tram in the station to go to Terminal 3.
